Unless otherwise stated all data referred to are seasonally adjusted and depict the underlying trend. The X12 ARIMA monthly seasonal adjustments include trading days and leap years. Unadjusted data are located in tables 3A to 3D. There is a step change in the data between 2010 and 2011 following a change in the reporting population. Average transaction values are based on three-month rolling averages, while growth rates are based on twelve-month rolling periods.

* As there are insufficient online data series collected to apply X12 ARIMA seasonal adjustment, the underlying trend is determined using linear regression. This allows an estimation of the likely scale of seasonal impacts to be made until there are sufficient data (3 years) to use a recognised method of seasonal adjustment.

Introduction

Payment card spending amounted to £52.7 billion in September, up by £0.5 billion on August. Spending online grew by 1.1% to £11.6 billion; representing 22.1% of total card spending, up from 20.9% in September 2014. The number of purchases also increased and reached 1.1 billion transactions, up by 0.8% during the month. The number of purchases made via the internet rose by 1.5% to reach 134 million, accounting for 11.7% of total card purchases, up from 10.8% a year ago.

During Q3 of 2015 consumers made 85 million more purchases and spent £1.9 billion above the level recorded in Q2. The increase in card spending was despite a slight slowdown in economic performance, following growth of 0.5% in GDP¹ on Q2, and up 2.3% on the same quarter a year ago. Seasonal factors also contributed to growth with back-to-school spending for over 12 million pupils² and students³ as well as a boost in demand for autumn clothing ranges.

Annual growth rates

Growth in payment card spending continued to gather pace, growing at an annual rate of 8.2% in September – the strongest performance in more than three years. This robust growth could, in part stem from increasing levels of household disposable income following decreasing unemployment to a seven-year low⁴ and rising wages. An added factor could be benign inflation since February, which slipped back into deflation after declining to -0.1% in the year to September⁵, down from 0% in August.

Annual growth in debit card spending continued to exceed that in credit card spending with registered growth rates of 8.7% and 6.9% respectively. However, growth in credit card spending has been recovering recently, boosted by payments on foreign-issued credit cards, in particular, at educational establishments.

Within the sectors, the entertainment sub-sector rose by 15.2%, remaining the fastest-growing category since January. In contrast, spending on automotive fuels has been on a downward trajectory for over a year, decreasing by 7.9% in September, reflecting falling world oil prices⁶ alongside the ongoing supermarket price wars⁷.

Meanwhile, the annual growth rate in the number of purchases of 10.9% continues to outstrip that of spending since March 2014. This trend is also evident within the digital space where the number of online purchases grew by 23% compared to a year ago, while spending increased by 16%.

Average transaction values

There was a slight uptick in the average transaction value (ATV) on all payment cards between August and September, rising by 5p to £46.19, but still below the ATV of £47.48 a year ago. The retail sales ATV declined by 6p to £32.20, while the ATV for services picked up by 13p to £74.62. Within the merchant sectors, the largest decrease came from the vehicle sales & services sub-sector, which recorded an ATV fall of 62p, while financial services registered the largest increase of £3.04 during the month.

The ATV on all payment cards via the online channel amounted to £83.32 in September, down from £85.27 in August, and compares to £94.47 a year ago. In contrast, the ATV on contactless cards reached £7.35, up by 23p on August, coinciding with the maximum limit increase from £20 to £30 from the beginning of September.

Despite the recent uptick, there has been a persistent decline in the ATVs evident since 2011, likely reflecting changing consumer spending patterns coupled with continuing supermarket price wars⁸ that has been reinforced by recently absent inflation. Another factor has been the ongoing migration of low value cash payments to cards, accelerated by the adoption of contactless payments, which accounted for 8.9% of total card purchases in September, up from 3.2% a year ago.

⁸ Kantar Worldpanel, Grocery price war boosts savings to £58: <http://uk.kantar.com/consumer/shoppers/2015/>

Spending by sector – retail sales and services

The number of transactions within the retail sector increased by 5.0 million to 764 million, with the corresponding spend rising by £113 million to £24.6 billion. Meanwhile, the number of transactions in the services sector grew by 4.5 million to 376 million, corresponding to a rise in spending of £383 million to £28.1 billion. The highest increases in retail spending came from the food & drink and other retail sub-sectors, where spending amounted to £9.3 billion and £4.0 billion respectively. Despite the evidence of falling prices⁹, the food & drink category recorded a rise of £38 million, driven by increased spending in supermarkets. The major contributors to growth of £20 million in the other retail sub-sector were chemists and direct sales merchants. There was however, a decrease in spending in automotive fuels,

The largest growth within the services sector was registered at other services; an increase of £134 million to £8.0 billion, driven by a surge in spending at educational establishments. The travel sub-sector was also a strong contributor to growth after increasing by £72 million to £4.2 billion, mainly due to higher spending on railways and airlines, which could, in part be attributed to England hosting the Rugby World Cup. Meanwhile, the strengthening automotive market¹⁰ was likely the main driver of growth in the vehicle sales & services sub-sector, recording the strongest growth in eight months.

Spending by merchant categories (not seasonally adjusted)

The strongest monthly increase in spending was recorded at educational establishments, boosted by the start of the new school year. There were also notable rises in spending at merchants related to transport such as railways and vehicle sales. In contrast, travel related merchants selling foreign currency and travellers cheques as well as auto rentals and camping grounds registered decreases when compared to August. The popular visitors destinations such as amusement parks, aquariums and other tourist attractions recorded the largest percentage decreases, marking the end of the summer holiday season.

Spending online (not seasonally adjusted)

Consumer spending patterns vary considerably when shopping on the high street or online. For example, 34% of total face-to-face card purchases in September were made at supermarkets, while online just 6% of all purchases were in supermarkets. In contrast, travel accounted for just 6% of total in-store spending, but 16% of online spending was on travel.

E-commerce continued to dominate within the services sector where 32% of card spending was made via the internet, while just 11% of retail spending was online. The highest e-commerce traffic was evident within financial services, where 45% of spending occurred via the internet, followed by other services with 35%. Within the merchant categories, the proportion of online spending was highest on timeshares (85%), catalogues (82%) and record shops (78%). In the vehicle sales & services sub-sector just 4.3% of spending was made online, while virtually all spending on automotive fuels (99.97%) took place in the face-to-face environment. Similarly, consumers prefer to shop in-store at such merchants as vehicle dealers, pubs and employment agencies, where online spending accounted for just 0.5%, 1.1% and 1.4% respectively.

Payment card spending within national retail sales

Retail sales form a significant part of household spending in the UK and data from merchants show increasing use of payment cards over many years. There was a slight uptick in the percentage share of retail sales (including automotive fuels)¹² accounted for by payment cards in September. This figure increased to 77.9%, up 0.2 percentage points on August, with debit and credit card splits of 53.4% and 24.5% respectively. This trend was also reflected in other sub-sectors such as food & drink and automotive fuels. The share of spending within food & drink accounted for by cards rose to 73.1%, while the majority of expenditure on automotive fuels was accounted for by payment cards at 89.1%.
